The list of accepted posters is as follows:

A Historic Strike: Breque dos Apps and the Platform Delivery Workers' Struggle in Brazil
Renato Assad

AI + Law = an impossible equation ?
Héloïse Eloi-Hammer

Beyond the Algorithm: Human Judgment and AI Use in Organizational Contexts
Eric Dahlin

Boundaries of Alienation in the Global Technology Consultancy Industry: The Indian and Brazilian Tech Workers Behind Global Digitalization
Sébastien Antoine

Consumptionscapes and Marketscapes of Digital Labor
Nikhilesh Dholakia, A. Fuat Fırat

Criticality and potential of Article 4 of Legislative Decree No. 104 of 2022 on disclosure requirements when automated decision-making or monitoring systems are used
Alessandro Giuliani

Digital technologies in education and the art of "bricoleur"
Alex Barboni

Employee resistance and quiet quitting as a form of right to disconnect in digital work
Bernadett Solymosi-Szekeres

From adaptation to resistance: reactions to the platformization of the popular economy in the city of São Paulo
Marina Montenegro

Global Work, Local Fights: Legal Resistance in the Gig Economy
Megha Sharma

Governing delivery work through fear: what are the effects of algorithmic domination on mental health?
Stéphane Le Lay

Health and Safety Risks in Location-Based Platform Work: The Role of Income Dependence
Barbara Švagan, Suzana Laporšek

In/formalised AI accountabilities in the workplace: The anticipation, evaluation and repair of failing algorithmic systems
Daniel Schneiß, Jana Pannier, Johannes Anttila

Injustice by Design: A Critical Technocultural Discourse and Latina Feminist Analysis of Amazon's ACX audiobook labor platform
Ruth Nuñez Villanueva

Living with the Middleman: Struggles with Subcontracting in Berlin's gig economy
Aju John, Valentin Niebler

Platformisation and precariousness: A study of groceries delivery motorbikes drivers in the South African retail sector
Dr. Mmanoko Jerry

Platforms Without Masters as Democratic Alternatives? The role of Platform Cooperatives in fostering transnational solidarity and resistance against Big Tech
Alvaro Oleart

Rappi Couriers in Medellín: Incongruities and Articulation Work in Platform Infrastructures
Javier Calle

Recognition Theory and the Injustices of AI Labor
Rosalie Waelen

Resilience and vulnerabilities in algorythmic management: how can workers challenge Amazon's power
Marco Veruggio

Surveillance Capitalism and the Ethics of Surveillance by Design in the Workplace
Siobhain Lash

The Algorithm as a Manager of Suffering: The Experience of Brazilian Data Workers
Hugo Santos, Simone Oliveira

The developers' work: dialectical aspects of digital cooperation
Gabriele Borghese

The human side of digital transformation: psychological well-being and technological uncertainty. An exploratory study.
Simonetta Muccio, Federica Fortunato, Rosantonietta Scramaglia, Emanuela Susca

The social context of online working: gender and the urban informal as active contributors to digital work
Geetisha Dasgupta

The US dock workers in front of the Automation and the Artifical Intelligence (AI).
Marco Caligari

Upholding Labor Standards in Global AI Production Networks: Sectoral Lessons and the Role of Social Science Action Research
Patrick Feuerstein, Mark Graham, Valente Jonas

Whose data? Our data
Gianni Fraioli

“We're Just Training It to Replace Us”: DEI, Precarity, and Generative AI in Coding Labour
Dani Rudnicka-Lavoie